

2010 Bacigalupi Petite Sirah

Russian River Valley

Our 2010 Petite Sirah is produced from the well-recognized old Foppiano clone, first planted over a century ago by the Foppiano family. Our small and specialized planting consists of 9 acres on the Frost Ranch located in the Russian River Valley off the famed Westside Rd. The 2010 harvest was a challenging one with a wet spring followed by a late cool growing season. A heat spike near the end of the season allowed grapes to reach maturity with fruit coming in at higher acids and deep flavor.

This big, robust and full bodied wine brings forward intense flavors that will complement a variety of dishes. Hints of plum, tobacco and dark chocolate envelop the palate with a long lingering finish complimented by gripping yet subtle tannins.
